Anyone walking through the halls of Adjala Central Public School last Wednesday would have received a lesson in honesty and harmony. Suzanne Kromhout's Grade 4 students have been working with Canadian singer/songwriter Gregg Lawless on creating a song encompassing one of the 10 character traits Simcoe County elementary schools have been teaching over the past year.

Lawless has been working with 10 schools in the county to create songs about honesty, integrity, responsibility, co-operation, caring, respect, optimism, empathy, courage, inclusiveness.

Wednesday was his third and final meeting with the Grade 4 students. His lesson for the day was to teach the kids about stage presence and how to belt out the song they helped to write.

"It's a fantastic program," Kromhout said, tapping her foot in time to the music. "Gregg is so great with the kids. They absolutely love him."

Lawless along with four other musicians will be the backing band during a concert at Barrie's Gryphon Theatre May 26 for the 10 schools chosen to write songs
